NEAR LEEDS STATION, Me.,
July 15, 1853.

Six: I have the honor to transmit herewith extracts from a report of Lieutenant Commanding James Alden, United States Navy, Assistant in the Coast Survey, upon the determination of the position of a bank in the Pacific, lying in the track of the Panama steamer, and which has been called the Cortes Shoal.

This shoal was first seen by Captain Cropper, of the "Cortex," and its position afterwards determined by the commander of the steamer Pacific, which varies very slightly from that given by the Coast Survey officers.

by the Coast Survey officers.

I am indebted to G. W. Blunt, esq., of New York, for having early called my attention to the discovery of this shoal; the information, however, had previously reached Lieutenant Commanding Alden, who despatched a party to determine its nesition.

position:

The shoal will be immediately indicated upon the charts now on hand and ready for distribution as well as on all fature editions.

I would respectfully request authority to publish the above.

Very respectfully, yours, &c.,

(Signed)

A. D. BACHE,

Superintendent

Hon. James Guturie, Secretary of the Treasury, Washington.

U. S. SURVEYING SCHOONER EWING, OFF SAN PEDRO, June 1, 1853.

Sign: I have the pleasure of reporting my return to this place from the shoal to the southward of San Clemente and San Nicholas, of which I have made a thorough examination, having been five days anchored upon it.

The shoal or bank is in latitude 32° 30' N., longitude 110° 10° 50° west the laland of San Nicholas days anchored upon it.

The shoal or bank is in latitude 32° 30' N., longitude 119° 10' 50" west; the Island of San Nicholas bears N. W. by N. (by compass) distant 46 miles; Island of San Clemente bears N. E. i N. (compass) distant 43 miles. The nature of the bottom is hard, composed of white sand, broken shells, and coral; the least water found, ten fathoms, would be about nine reduced to low water, and the character of the soundings, as you will find upon reference to the chart which I send herewith, irregular and abrupt.

The weather while at anchor upon the shoal we found different from that which ordinarily prevails upon the coast in the vicinity, bearing a strong resemblance to that upon the Banks of Newfoundland.

The current is irregular, frequently setting against the wind, and running with a velocity of nearly two knots per hour, producing a heavy sea, and causing the water probably to break in heavy weather as has been reported:

Very respectfully, your obedient servant, (Signed)

T. H. STEVENS,

Lieut. Commanding U. S. N. Chief of Hydrographic Party on the Western Coast.

The requisite oaths having been administered, the President pronounced the court duly organized, whereupon Mr. Peckham, counsel for Mr. Mather, suggested an adjournment until the arrival of the absent members, intimating that objection might be taken on behalf of his client to any members taking part in the deliberations of the tion might be taken on behalf of his client to any members taking part in the deliberations of the court who were not present at its opening. In support of his suggestion he read from the statute (2d Revised Statutes, page 224, chapter 18, sec-tion 16) that "no member of the court shall sit or give his vote upon such trial until he shall have taken such oath or affirmation."

Without expressing any opinion upon the counsel's argument, the President conceded a recess until four o'clock in the afternoon.

EXECUTION IN VIRGINIA .- Goens, the man con victed of the murder of his own daughter, was ex-ecuted at Charlottesville, Virginia, on Friday last, in the presence of a great throng of spectators. He acknowledged before his execution that he re-collected whipping his daughter severely on the having struck her with a pine knot, which caused her death. He stated that he was drunk at the time of the murder, and had but an indistinct retime of the murder, and had but an indistinct re-collection of what he did; though he declared it was never his intention to have killed his daugh-ter. He professed to be prepared to die. He met his fate firmly, bade his family farewell, warning them with his last breath against the use of ardent spirits, which had brought him to the gallows. EXTENT OF ENGLISH COMMERCE.—England is so deeply engaged in manufactures, that she brings a large portion of her breadstuffs and provisions, as well as the raw material for her manufactures, from every part of the world. During the first twenty-seven weeks of the present year, the importation of flour and wheat alone, into the the importation of flour and wheat alone, into the ports of Great Britain, was equal to 16,104,752 bushels wheat. This quantity was brought from forty-eight different ports in all climates. The list begins with the northern port of Russia, (Archangel,) and ends with Peru. It includes almost every European State—includes Egypt and the west of Africa, the Phillippine islands and the Brazils, Australia, and the United States of North

MEXICAN CONFISCATION.—Three Americans— J. A. Taylor, Jesse Jones, and M. E. Milner— have written from Sonora, Lower California, under date of May 30, that in December last, while they were on their return home to New Orleans, they were on their return home to New Orleans, and totally ignorant of the fact that in Mexico gold dust is contraband, and an export duty of four per cent. upon coin, they were stopped by custom-house officers, and robbed of between six and seven thousand dollars—all they had in the world, and which they had worked hard for in the California mines. They protested that they knew nothing of the revenue laws of that country, and were desirous of paying all legal charges, but the whole was confiscated, and they were sent adrift. This is not the only instance of parties being plundered in Mexican ports on the Pacific.

THE LARGEST GASOMETER IN THE UNITED STATES.—The Gas Light Company of St. Louis are now building a new gas-holder and tank, which will exceed in capacity any similar apparatus in the Union, if we except one in Philadelphia, which it will equal. The excavation for this work is now nearly completed at the intersection of Clark avenue and Ulrici streets, just beyond the city limits, and in a flat of Chouteaut's pond. The gas-holder is intended to be one hundred and fifty feet in diameter, by from twenty to thirty feet in depth, with a capacity of one million of feet.

DISTRESSING OCCURRENCE.—Yesterday morn BALTHORE, August 18, 1853.

Sterms of thunder and lightning are now matters of every-day occurrence, greatly interrupting the wire-working of the telegraph. Yesterday, with scarce a cloud to be seen, the lightning was wafted along the wires from the neighborhood of Wilmington, where a storm was raging, and discharged itself in the office in this city with a loud charged itself in the office in this city with a loud anger she thus incurred, but this she disregarded. assistants were engaged in pulling down an old brick building, (belonging to Mr. Richard Wal-lach,) nearly opposite to the City Hell, on Loui-siana avenue, a middle-aged Irish woman ap-proached with her basket for the purpose of gath-ering particles of wood. She was warned of the danger she thus incurred, but this she disregarded. A short time after a gust of wind struck the side wall, and caused it to topple. The workmen had scarcely time to escape before it fell. A moment's delay would probably have proved fatal to them, as they would have been covered by the fragments. One of them, however, was slightly injured in the foot, not being so active as his companions. But the prove woman, who was stronger. panions. But the poor woman, who was stoop-ing for the wood near the opposite wall, was com-pletely covered with the bricks. Her cries immediately procured assistance, and the rubbish was removed as soon as possible. It was discovered that she was severely injured, especially in the spine. She was conveyed to her residence on English Hill, and medical attendance summoned. It is feared that she cannot recover.

Her husband is apparently a worthy man, nam ed Mack. After two years' residence in this country he sent for his wife, who but recently arrived from Ireland, leaving his two children short ly to follow, or as soon as his pecuniary means will permit.

GREENOUGH'S GROUP.-Extensive arrange ments are in the course of being made for the ele vation of the group to the position which it is to occupy, on the eastern portico of the Capitol. The derric, belonging to Provost and Winter, which is eighty-five feet in height, has been removed thither, and everywhere around may be seen various ropes stretched as stays, some of them fastened to the pillars. Riggers from the navy yard are busily at work, climbing the latter as they would the masts of a ship, and making all "taut." They seem determined to guard against accidents. It will be no trifling matter to hoist the largest part of the group, weighing eleven tons; and beside, the utmost caution is requisite to prevent damage to the delicately-chiselled marble. The four parts of the group are in rough boxes and will not be uncovered until they are elevated to the base. Much anxiety is expressed to have a good view of their contents, and a large number of persons are daily in attendance with this object.

THE COLUMBIA COURSE has become quite pop ular of late, a number of our citizens resorting thither weekly to witness the races between trotters, to "skeleton wagons," and some of them to exhibit the speed of their own animals. It is a pleasant ride to that place, whether horses form the attraction or not. Yesterday a good many wagons and nags were engaged to convey lovers of the turf to the course, and omnibuses were ad vertised to start from Brown's Hotel for that pur pose. Rare sport was anticipated, and the public were advised that they might "expect to see something worth looking at;" but in the afternoon it rained to such an extent as to disappoint the anticipations of amateur sportsmen, and caused a postponement of the equestrian perform ances until Saturday afternoon.

THE FLORAL AND HORTICULTURAL EXHIBITION vesterday was not so well supplied with fruits as on the previous occasion, although the collection vas creditable to the contributors. The peaches from Mr. Clagett's farm were beautiful to the sight, and those of Mr. Cammack were pleasant to the taste, if we could judge of the lot by the one which we ata. Mr. John Varden deposited seve-ral leaves of tobacco from the end of an old plant that he had growing in the hall of the Patent Office during four years. The plant was constantly blooming and seeding all that time until he took it out of the earth. It was green all last winter in the hall. A volume of "Hovey's Fruits of America," the illustrations the natural size of the fruits, graced the exhibition.

THE EXECUTION OF DANIEL T. WOODWARD, for the murder of his wife, is fixed for this day two weeks. We cannot learn that he is yet prepared for the event which awaits him.

On the 18th instant, by the Rev. Mr. Hill, Yesterday his counsel, Messrs. Thompson and GEORGE W. PAYNE to Miss ELIZA JANE Carrington, placed in the hands of Attorney Genezens of Georgetown and Washington, including two of the jurors engaged in the trial, asking the President of the United States either to banish the prisoner beyond the limits of the country, or comnute the sentence to imprisonment for life in the penitentiary of the District of Columbia.

CRIMINAL COURT .- The case of the United States vs. John McCaffrey, indicted for an assault and battery on negro Robert Lee, with an intent o kill him, was tried a second time yesterdaythe first jury failing to agree upon a verdict Messrs. Fendall appeared for the United States and Mr. M. Thompson for the defendant. The evidence was somewhat similar to that produced on Tuesday; and the prisoner was acquitted. He is a young man of humble but prepossessing ap-Mexican campaign. It appeared that the negro provoked a quarrel with him, which ended in his arrest for the course which he pursued to chastise the aggressor. But, in our opinion, he got the worst of the battle.

THE JUNE TERM of the criminal court terminated yesterday. Twenty-five or thirty cases, we learn, go over o the December term. THE COLUMBIA FIRE COMPANY, of this city, after enjoying the sights and hospitalities of New York since Monday, left that city yesterday morning homewards, intending to stop in Phila-delphia during the day to partake of the socialities of their friends. NEW ORLEANS SUFFERERS .- Mr. W. M. FOR ter generously proposes to give a benefit in aid of the fund for the New Orleans sufferers, at Odd Fellows' Hall, on Monday evening next. He is making arrangements for an entertainment which, we feel assured, will prove satisfactory to the pub lic. A variety of talent will be brought forward on the occasion. The Mayor of Washington has omitted the usual city license, the object of the entertainment being to serve a charitable purpose.

RAIN.-We had a heavy and refreshing fall of t yesterday afternoon, accompanied by thunder and lightning. The streams hereabouts were considerably swollen, and new life seemed to have been imparted to vegetation. We are thankful for the "gracious visitation."

WASHINGTON SENTINEL. PROPOSE to publish in the city of Week's ton, in September, a political newspaper, the name of the Weshington Swifted in doing so it is proper I should make know principles it will maintain and the policy principle it will maintain an ill advocate. It will support cordial'y and corn-iples of the Democratic Republic

It will support cordially and cornectly the principles of the Democratic Republican party of the United States. It does not propose to be the organ of any department of the Government, except in so far as an independent maintenance of the doctrines of that party may represent its opinions and express its views.

It will not be ambitious to command itself to the people by a blind flattery of their rulers. It will seek public support by the bold avowal of the sentiments which are common to the genuine Democrary of the Union, and by the condemnation of all such as may conflict with them, from whatever quarter they may come. It will seek to be (and it will endeavor to deserve the title) the organ of the Democratic party of the United States.

The Sentinal will maintain, as a fundamental truth of that great party, that the States formed the Union between them by the ratification of the Constitution as a compact; by which also they created the Federal Government, and delegated to it, as their common agent, the powers expressly specified in it, with an explicit reservation of all others to the States, or to their separate governments. The exercises of any powers beyond those thus delegated is therefore an usurpation of the reserved authority of the States by the agent of their own greation.

The Sentinet will uphold and defend the Union

thus delegated is therefore an usurpation of the reserved authority of the States by the agent of their own creation.

The Sentines will upheld and defend the Union upon the basis of the rights of the States—under the Constitution—and thus by sectulously guarding the latter it will the more effectually strengthen and perpetuate the former.

With regard to the exercise of the powers of the Federal Government, the Sentines will take as the principles of its action that Congress shall exercise no power which has not been delegated by the Constitution, according to a strict and fair interpretation of its language and spirit; and that it shall not seek to attain indirectly an object through the exercise of constitutional power, for the direct attainment of which it has no delegation of power. In other words, all powers exercised must be clearly granted, and all granted powers must be used for no purpose except such as is clearly intended by the Constitution.

In respect to the internal administration of the Government the Sentines will sustain the settled policy of the Democratic party. It will labor to inculcate this cardinal doctrine of Democratic internal policy—that this Government will best promote the freedom and prosperity of the people of the States by baing less ambitious to exercise power and more anxious to preserve liberty; and by leaving to the individual States the management of all their domestic concerns—while it contents itself with guarding the Confederacy from external violence, and directing the foreign policy of the country to the promotion of the common interests and defence of the common rights and honor of the States composing it.

The Sentinel will advocate such a progressive foreign policy as will suit itself to the exigencies and correspond with the expanding interests of the country upon each occasion demanding attention will be its guide in the course the Sentinel will pursue.

The national policy of the world in this age is essentially aggressive. In the growing sense of strictest; rinciples of justice. The real interests of the country upon each occasion demanding attention will be its guide in the course the Sentinel will pursue.

The national policy of the world in this age is essentially aggressive. In the growing sense of weakness of some of the nations of the Old World and the ambitious restlessness of others, a common motive to colonial extension has developed itself.

Our settled determination to repel interference from abroad with our own domestic concerns will prompt us to avoid it in the affairs of other countries, unless by their foreign or colonial policy our peace should be threatened, our security endangered, or our interests invaded. For when the selfish interests of other nations prompt a foreign or colonial policy which infringes upon our rights and places in the pathway of our commerce a dangerous and unfriendly rival, such a policy must be resisted by remonstrance, and if need be by war.

Our foreign policy should indeed be defensive; but to be properly defensive it must sometimes be apparently aggressive. Our Administration should be vigilant, watchful, and energetic. The world its full of important movements, commercial and political, deeply concerning American trade and American power. It is time we had an American foreign policy. We must have it. We cannot avoid it if we would. We have larger interests and a greater stake in the world and its destiny than every other people. We occupy the best portion of a continent, with no neighbors but a colonial dependencies, is washed by the two great occans of the world. Our agricultural productions are more varied and more essential to civilized life and to human progress—our mineral and manufacturing resources more extended than those of any other people living under one government. A continent to a great extent unexplored and exhaustless in its yet hidden wealth is at our feet. European trade seeks the great East through avenues which are at our doors, or must be made through our mineral and extending, shough pe widening and extending, though peaceful influences, the blessings of liberty, civilization, and religion, are destined to triumph over the barbarism and superstition of the miltions of the world. And shall such a people refuse to lay hold upon their destiny and act upon the high mission to which it is called? A mission so full of hope, though so laden with responsibility, which, if properly directed, must make our Confederacy the harbinger of peace to the world as well as the peaceful arbiter of its destiny.

The Sentinel will, therefore, advocate a bold and carnest foreign policy, such as the condition of the The Sentine! will, therefore, advocate a bold and earnest foreign policy, such as the condition of the country demands, but it will advocate it under the flag of the country—now here else. Its fortign policy must be consistent with the spotless honor and unimpeachable good faith of the country. To be respectable at home and abroad, and to be great in the eyes of the world, it must ask for nothing but what is right and submit to nothing that is wrong. It must be liberal and magnanimous to the rights of others, and firm and immovable in insisting on its own. It must, in fine, be true to its own interests, rights, and honor—it cannot then be false to those of other nations.

Such, then, is the chart by which we shall be guided. Independent and free, we shall endeavor to be honest and truthful. The true friends o Democratic principles, we shall cordially support and defend. Itsenemics in the field or in ambush we shall oppose, and on all proper occasions de-we shall oppose, and on all proper occasions deand defend. Itsenemies in the ness or in amouse we shall oppose, and on all proper occasions denounce.

To our future brethren of the press we extend the hand of friendly greeting. The Sentinel is the rival of no press of its own party—the personal enemy of none of the other.

The present Democratic Administration has our best wishes for its success in the establishment of the great principles upon which it came into power; and in its honest labors to attain such an end it will find the Sentinel at friend and coadjutor.
